ANDREW HIT BY NONCING LAWSUIT

A U.S. woman who alleges she was brought to the UK aged 17 to have sex with the Duke of York has filed a civil case in New York claiming he abused her .

Virginia Giuffre, who was an accuser of convicted sex offender Jeffrey Epstein, claims she was sexually assaulted by Prince Andrew in London and New York.

Prince Andrew, 61, has consistently denied Ms Giuffre's claims.

Ms Giuffre's case cites New York's Child Victims Act, which expanded victims' rights to sue alleged abusers.

It claims the prince engaged in sexual acts without her consent, knowing how old she was and "that she was a sex-trafficking victim".

It says the "extreme and outrageous conduct" continues to cause Ms Giuffre, now 38, "significant emotional and psychological distress and harm". The documents read: "In this country no person, whether president or prince, is above the law, and no person, no matter how powerless or vulnerable, can be deprived of the law's protection.

"Twenty years ago Prince Andrew's wealth, power, position, and connections enabled him to abuse a frightened, vulnerable child with no-one there to protect her. It is long past the time for him to be held to account."

Speaking about Ms Giuffre's allegations in 2019, Prince Andrew said they "never happened".

He told BBC Newsnight: "It didn't happen. I can absolutely categorically tell you it never happened.

"I have no recollection of ever meeting this lady, none whatsoever."

Virus won't stop airline from flying

JETBLUE has said the COVID pandemic will not stop the airline from launching its long-awaited New York to London service tomorrow.

Chief executive Robin Hayes said there was "strong demand" for the route in the U.S. where, he said, JetBlue had returned to 2019 levels.

The move comes as the travel industry continues to recover.

Holiday Inn-owner Intercontinental Hotels said holiday demand was "returning strongly".

In its latest results statement the group, whose other brands include the Crowne Plaza chain, said it had opened 132 hotels during the six months to June and acquired another 20.

IHG boss Keith Barr said: "It's been great to welcome more and more guests back into our hotels, particularly in the U.S. and China."

Easing drives used car sales

SECOND-HAND car sales in the UK have more than doubled in the last few months due to COVID restrictions easing and a shortage of new models.

Year on year, the used car market grew 108.6 per cent in the second quarter, with more than 2.2m vehicles changing hands, the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders said. The number of sales was well up on pre-pandemic levels.

Ford Fiestas, Vauxhall Corsas, Ford Focuses and Volkswagen Golfs were the most popular models, with black, silver, blue and grey being the most common colour choices.

HIGHEST-EVER A-LEVEL GRADES ...AGAIN

WHAT A RESULT: Students check grades

TOP grades for A-level results for England, Wales and Northern Ireland have reached a record high, with 44.8 per cent of students getting A* or A grades.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

After exams were cancelled due to the pandemic, this second year of replacement results has seen an increase in those achieving top grades, up from 38.5 per cent.

More than 200,000 students are also getting vocational BTec results.

In Scotland, the pass rates for Highers and Nationals dropped slightly but scores were still above pre-pandemic levels.

The sharp rise in top grades at A-level means that the proportion getting top A* and A grades has risen by almost 75 per cent since the last time conventional exams were taken in 2019.

Toughest

With more top grades and record numbers applying for university, it will put pressure on places for the toughest universities and courses.

Yesterday morning, the admissions service Ucas said a record 396,000 students have been confirmed in their first choice course, up eight per cent on last year.

Dr Tim Bradshaw, chief executive of the Russell Group of leading universities, warned increases in the top grades meant that some university courses "may not be able to accept students who narrowly missed their offer grades this time."

But Simon Lebus, interim chairman of exams watchdog, Ofqual, said: "We've always said outcomes from this year were likely to be different."

But he assured students they had been "fairly treated" and grades, based on teachers' judgements, could be trusted.

Exam board officials said the higher grades reflected that no-one had a "bad day" in an exam and that students had "multiple chances" to show that they could do well.

Schools could use a range of evidence for grades, including "mini-exams", coursework and mock exams, with one in five schools having a sample of their grades checked by exam boards.

During the checking process, exam boards queried submitted grades in 15 per cent of schools and colleges, but few were altered.

National Association of Head Teachers' leader Paul Whiteman rejected warnings of "grade inflation", saying: "The results in 2021 cannot be easily compared to other years."

Education Secretary's results fail

THE Secretary of State for Education has revealed he cannot remember what grades he got in his A-levels.

Doing a round of media interviews on the day thousands of students received their results for this year, Gavin Williamson recalled the day he got his A-level grades 27 years ago.

But when asked on LBC what they were, Mr Williamson (above), 45, said his memory had failed him.

He did, however, admit that he did not get top marks.

He said: "I didn't get three A*s, it's fair to say. I have forgotten, it's so long ago. It's 27 years ago.

"You probably can't remember what was happening last weekend."

Earlier in the chat, Mr Williamson recalled going to his sixth form college in Scarborough to pick up his results.

COVID boffins to study Indian herb

RESEARCHERS are aiming to find out whether a traditional Indian herb can help promote recovery from long C OVID.

The London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine will work with the All India Institute of Ayurveda on a trial to find out whether ashwagandha can help people recover from the condition.

Commonly known as Indian winter cherry, the herb is traditionally used in the Indian Ayurvedic system of medicine to strengthen the immune system.

Its efficacy in reducing anxiety, stress, improving muscle strength and reducing symptoms of fatigue in patients with chronic conditions has been demonstrated in recent trials, experts say.

People experiencing long COVID can suffer from many symptoms including poor mental health, extreme fatigue and muscle weakness.

It's estimated these symptoms affect up to 20 per cent of virus victims, and can last for months.

HAGUE: DECRIMINALISE DRUGS!

DRUG use should be decriminalised and treated as a health problem because decades of hardline approaches to the problem have failed, former Tory leader Lord Hague believes.

He said that the UK should follow the lead of Portugal, which has seen use drop after it cut criminal sanctions and ploughed money into healthcare instead.

The former Opposition leader admitted he had been guilty, like other Conservative politicians, of a reluctance "to abandon a tough law and order approach".

But he said it was now clear something had to change to tackle the "massive social problem", adding: "We will never suppress the supply of drugs while the demand goes on."

The peer said: "Portugal has not legalised drugs and still punishes drug-trafficking, but after decriminalisation, all major indicators in a variety of studies have improved, including an 18 per cent fall in the total costs to society after 11 years.

"By 2010, the number of drug offenders sent to criminal courts had halved.

"Less law enforcement work helped to pay for better treatments. Might this not be worth a try?"

I WOULD RIDE HER LIKE A STOLEN BICYCLE

Stunning Liz targeted by vile sex trolls

BABE: Liz on her bike

SHE always oozes confidence when sharing sexy photos with her online fans.

And Elizabeth Hurley was showing off her sizzling figure again last week as she shared a holiday snap on Instagram.

The actress, 56, displayed her incredible physique in a blue bikini as she enjoyed a bicycle ride.

And Liz completed her perfect summer look with a white sarong paired with a red and yellow bag in the basket of her bike.

The brunette beauty wore her dark tresses in beachy waves over her shoulders and had on a pair of silver sunglasses.

Alas, simply enjoying the alluring snap of the Hollywood babe was not enough for some readers of the hate-filled Daily Mail when the pics were shared on their website.

By SUZIE SHELDON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Vigorous

One Essex reader drooled: "Would ride her like a stolen bicycle," a none-too-subtle allusion to the fact they would like to have sex with Liz in a vigorous manner.

And others made vile comments suggesting they would like to have Liz sit on their faces, with one saying: "Luckiest bike seat in history."

Meanwhile, another made the unsupported claim that Liz is "in need of my seed". In this case, "seed" means hot, sticky spunk ejaculated from the end of an engorged penis.

Liz is reportedly being supported by pals amid her fury over her son Damian, 19, being cut from his dad Steve's family fortune after the tycoon's family argued the teen carries the taint of bastardy.

American businessman Steve died by suicide last June, aged 55.

A showbiz source said: "While Liz's friends are rallying round at a time of emotional turmoil, Daily Mail readers can only think about her sitting on their faces. The fiends."

Top OnlyFans creators earn HUNDREDS of times more than doctors and lawyers

THE top creators on X-rated subscription service OnlyFans rake in HUNDREDS of times more money than the average Brit who followed a more traditional career path, a new report has found.

MrQ, a UK-based gaming software website, crunched the numbers on the best paid OnlyFans players and compared their income to existing data about what more customary professionals make.

Popular

Those who make a name for themselves on the adult content platform bring in a far better income than those who stick to well-travelled job paths like doctors, lawyers and teachers.

The most popular OnlyFans user, gem101, makes over £21million a year, while even the 10th most popular, capriceG92, rakes in a cool £3million annually.

To calculate these findings, researchers looked at creators' subscription costs and subscriber numbers to calculate estimated monthly and annual incomes. The 20 per cent cut that OnlyFans takes from its users was also factored into findings.

A release for the analysis stated: "Among the most popular accounts with listed subscribers, gem101 earning an eye-watering £1.75million each month."

The report claims that top OnlyFans creators can make 22 times a doctor's annual salary in a month, adding: "That's nearly 270 times as much a year."

And what average income workers take home looks even more meagre in comparison. The average annual pay in the UK is around £30,000.

OnlyFans celebs include Bella Thorne, Lottie Moss, busty Demi Rose and Cardi B.

BIG CAT HUNTERS SPOOKED BY UFOs

STRANGER THINGS: Mountaineering expert Jay Opie, drone pilot George Wrigley, and cryptozoologist Carl Marshall on the hunt

A TOP secret expedition team looking for big cats in the south of England didn't spot any man-eating beasts – but they did see UFOs and were spooked by GHOSTS!

The team comprised of wildlife boffins, survival and bush-craft experts, experienced search and rescue personnel and filmmakers who all descended on the southern counties of Somerset, Dorset, Devon and Cornwall, to carry out an ambitious search for panthers and suchlike.

But they may have also stumbled across out-of-place creatures of the extra-terrestrial kind, as well as a whole host of other bizarre phenomena!

The team's drone pilot, George Wrigley, said: "In the past I have captured weird things in the sky using cameras on my drones.

"You can usually explain these things away quite easily as affects of the camera or tricks of the light, but this was pure weird!"

By TIM WHITTARD
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Mountaineer Jay Opie said: "We had just been abseiling and first noticed a load of strange lights in the sky during the start of a night investigation. They seemed to be changing shape and rotating.

Malfunction

"Next thing all our electronic equipment started to malfunction, and the batteries drained on our cameras and night-vision scopes almost instantly!"

Later in the course of the expedition the team stayed at an isolated farmhouse, which yielded even more uneasy and foreboding happenings.

The project's director saw a hooded apparition walking across the courtyard and then along the path in front of the cottages where the researchers were staying.

In a climax of pure strangeness, the final days of the expedition were almost derailed completely with nothing less than an alleged case of demonic possession!

The bizarre chain of events unfolded right in the heart of Exmoor, where in 1983 farmer Eric Ley lost nearly 100 lambs to the legendary big cat known as the 'Beast of Exmoor'.

One of the team's producers said: "It was really weird. We were interviewing witnesses when one of our support drivers started frothing at the mouth and speaking in tongues.

"I thought he was on drugs until I heard him speaking backwards in Latin amidst the tirade of swear words and expletives.

"It would have been impossible to fake. I really believe he went wild because an evil entity had entered him suddenly."

Commenting on the state of the possessed man, one villager said: "It looks like Exmoor has two beasts now!"

While the team did not spot any panthers or pumas, they did find big cat footprints and POO!

Nic's hubby OK with her romps on set

GORGEOUS Nicole Kidman has revealed that country music singer hubby Keith Urban is perfectly fine with it when she has to perform a love scene on camera.

Nicole (above), 54, said: "My husband is an artist, so he understands all of it, and he also does not get involved.

"He sees the show at the very end when it's all edited together, and he's fresh eyes. He doesn't read any script, he really doesn't know what's going on on the set, he's got his own career that he's completely absorbed in."

Oscar winner Nicole added: "He doesn't know much about what I'm really doing."

The couple have been married since 2006 and share daughters Sunday and Faith.

Last year Nicole opened up about how they juggle work and family life.

She said: "We have a system worked out to keep the family together. When Keith's touring, then I just don't work as much."

There's more beaver about up in Scotland

THE number of beavers in Scotland has more than doubled in the last three years, according to a new study.

NatureScot, the country's public body for natural heritage, found about 1,000 of the animals now reside in territories which have also more than doubled.

The range of where these territories are has grown too, from Glen Isla to Dundee and Stirling, Forfar to Crianlarich.

Robbie Kernahan, NatureScot director of sustainable growth, said: "Wildlife is declining in Scotland so this survey, which reveals increasing beaver population, is great news for nature in Scotland.

"Beavers play a vital role in creating and restoring wetlands where other species can thrive, reducing flooding."

BUTCHER MINCED IN INDUSTRIAL WOODCHIPPER

BUTCHER

VICTIM: Bruce Saunders and his ex girlfriend Sharon Graham

HIS EX

LOVER No.1

Ex 'conspired with her two lovers in grisly murder'

WHEN Bruce Saunders died after being SHREDDED ALIVE in a woodchipper in November 2017, the cause of death was believed to be a horrific accident.

But detectives now allege 54-year-old's death was actually the result of foul play at the hands of his ex-girlfriend, Sharon Graham, 60, and two men who were said to be her lovers.

When police were called to the property after Mr Saunder's death, they described the scene as "horrific".

According to a report at the time of the death, there were "bits of him all over the place" after he met his doom in the powerful tree mincer.

Mr Saunders owned and operated a family butcher shop before his retirement in 2016.

Now cops claim Ms Graham, Peter Koenig, 64, and Gregory Roser, 62, had a romantic and financial motive to end Saunders' life.

Stories

Roser was allegedly having an affair with Ms Graham and Koenig was at least "infatuated" with her, a court was told.

Detectives secretly set up video cameras inside the home of Ms Graham, which they say captured her and the two men "getting their stories straight" about the death of Saunders.

The transcripts of the recordings were handed to the Supreme Court as part of a bail hearing for Graham and the men.

They allegedly record Koenig and Roser in discussions about who was the "mastermind" behind the plot with Ms Graham and voiced their concerns about going to prison.

By ROY DURRIDGE
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A life insurance policy on Mr Sanders, of which Ms Graham was the only beneficiary, was increased from £265,000 to £400,000, and a claim was made three days after the incident, the court was told.

At one point Roser arrived at the house in Gympie, Queensland, and told Graham police had "grilled the shit out of him", and that blood splatter around the woodchipper appeared to be "inconsistent".

When they become concerned about being charged, Ms Graham tells them they need to have their "stories straight" and to tell police they can't remember details about the incident.

The recordings played in court also capture Roser and Ms Graham becoming increasingly concerned about police finding previous text messages between them that indicated they were in a relationship.

Police claim that Ms Graham masterminded the alleged killing

All three have been charged with the murder of Mr Saunders, and allegedly attempting to pervert the course of justice.

They were denied bail.

Uni students have 'racist' rock removed

NOW it's been decided that ROCKS are racist!

The University of Wisconsin has removed a 70-ton boulder from its Madison campus at the request of minority students who viewed it as a symbol of racism.

Chamberlin Rock (above) on Observatory Hill, named after Thomas Crowder Chamberlin, a 19th-century geologist and former university president, was referred to once back in 1925 as a "nhead rock".

Minority students have complained that the rock represents a history of discrimination.

The derogatory term was commonly used during the 1920s to describe any large, dark rock.

University historians have not found any other time that the term was used.

University Chancellor Rebecca Blank approved removing Chamberlin Rock in January but the Wisconsin Historical Society needed to sign it off as it was located within 15ft of a Native American burial site.

The rock is a rare pre-Cambrian era glacial erratic, thought to be than two billion years old.

Chinese have US 'blackmail' files

CHINA has stolen enough data from the US to compile a dossier on every single American adult, material used to "influence and intimidate, reward and blackmail, flatter and humiliate, divide and conquer", a Senate panel has been warned.

Matthew Pottinger, a deputy national security adviser for the Trump administration, sounded the alarm about Beijing's perusal of data during the Senate Intelligence Committee hearing.

He said: "Assembling dossiers on people has always been a feature of Leninist regimes, but Beijing's penetration of global digital networks has taken this to a new level."

China is exploiting US social media platforms, Pottinger claimed, and using them to spread propaganda.

It's feared that cruel Beijing Commies have harvested similar amounts of data about Brits, too.

PORN STAR GOBBLE COP KEEPS JOB

By BLAKE LEIGH
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A RANDY cop kept his job after romping with a handcuffed porn star on his squad car bonnet.

The unnamed officer had been left fighting for his job after a series of raunchy clips of him and Carla Gabberlover went viral online in 2017.

The High Court in Dublin determined that the officer could now resume his duties, despite previous efforts from police Commissioner Drew Harris to get him the sack.

A source confirmed: "He has finally won his case.

"The Commissioner lost in court and that's the end of it."

The decision ended a nervous four-year wait for the officer, who had been in legal limbo since his appearance in the video originally uploaded to adult website Pornhub.

In the clip, a man in a navy, police-stamped anorak was seen handcuffing Carla and reading out her rights.

EVIDENCE: Carla in the Pornhub vid

Cock

Moments later she sucks his hard cop cock next to the car.

Throughout the clip the man, who films the majority of the act on what could be a camera phone, can be heard making racy comments and commands.

But despite hiding his face, the officer was later identified via his squad car.

He was suspended before being reinstated in 2018 as an internal probe was launched.

It eventually ruled that the officer should be hit with a fine of three weeks' pay, but stopped short of actually giving him the sack.

Commissioner Harris took a different view and asked the officer to resign, forcing the dispute to end up in Ireland's High Court.

After the court ruling porn star Carla, real name Carla Smith, said she was happy that the officer had won his legal battle, adding: "I'm delighted for him."

Voter calls for MP to lose 'dirty' Cox

A POLITICIAN received an angry letter from a voter telling him to change his "dirty" name.

Spencer Cox, Governor of the US state of Utah, received the letter which read: "When people say your surname it sounds like the word 'cocks'.

"It's obscene!"

The unidentified writer demanded the 46-year-old Governor change his "foul, dirty" name, adding: "Us decent people here in Utah will not stand for it. The honourable Republican party will not stand for it and, most importantly, I will not stand for it."

The author also said if the Governor didn't give himself a new moniker, "we will assemble and do what democracy was made to do by recalling you from office because of your filthy surname."

Lift drama as pals trapped by floody hell

THREE people almost drowned as neck-high floodwater engulfed a lift they were using.

Tony Luu and two pals hopped in the lift to see damage caused by ongoing hail and flash floods in Omaha, Nebraska, only to find themselves stuck in it on the ground floor as water rushed in from the foyer.

"Once it got to my stomach, we kind of figured, 'OK, this is real,'" Luu said.

"It was literally like something from a film."

Video recorded by Luu's friend shows him vaping when the lift suddenly jolts and water rushes in from below the closed doors.

Later, when water has nearly submerged them, Luu's friend, whose head is barely above the water line, appears to be on the phone with emergency services, telling them to hurry.

They managed to pry the doors open before help arrived, and escaped along with the many gallons of water.

Luu added: "It was pretty traumatising."

RESIDENTS of a quiet suburb are sleeping with one eye open while a neighbour's poisonous snake is on the loose.

DAUGHTER KEPT DEAD MUM IN KITCHEN

MUMMIFIED: Gloria Pike (above) and (below) her daughter Geanee

Body wrapped in newspaper while bank account emptied

A DAUGHTER-from-hell kept her mother's dead body wrapped in newspaper for MONTHS while she slept in the same house and drained her mum's bank account.

Geanee Pike, 54, kept mum Gloria's body in a kitchen/living room area in the room next to where she slept in a house in Lincoln, Arkansas, without running water and filled with buckets of urine and faeces.

Gloria, who hadn't been seen alive since August last year, was "mummified" from being covered in a layer of newspapers and a layer of bedding.

An autopsy is pending but Geanee told police her 73-year-old mother had died of natural causes sometime at the end of 2020.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Disability

Geanee Pike said her mother owed her money she had promised to pay from her monthly Social Security disability cheques and that she continued to use her mother's bank account after her death.

Geanee was arrested on charges of abuse of a corpse and financial identity fraud.

Gloria was reported missing last month by her brother, who lives next door and hadn't seen her since last summer.

She had reportedly been fighting breast cancer.

After cops couldn't get in touch with her at her house, they put out a public appeal asking for information, and later interviewed Geanee, who told them her mum wasn't missing but with an unknown friend.

Although Geanee said she didn't have access to her mum's bank accounts, authorities used CCTV footage to find she HAD used her mother's bank card at a local store in July.

Jail for girl who had sex in car park

A WOMAN spotted by police "engaging in a sexual act" with a man at a car park has been jailed for two months.

Karla Kerr, 26, from Belfast, appeared at Ballymena Magistrates' Court via a video link from Hydebank prison where she also admitted being disorderly on the same date.

The court heard Kerr and the man had been "cautioned for indecent behaviour" by cops.

The man was referred to as a co-defendant but did not appear in court.

As police entered the car park, Kerr could be seen engaging in a sexual act with the male defendant. They were situated in full view of a residential area and in full view of members of the public walking past.

LANDLORD BROKE IN FOR NUDE W*NK

A LANDLORD is being sued by a tenant after he entered her home while she was away, stripped naked and WANKED on her bed.

Douglas Stevenson admitted to police he twice entered his neighbour's home, which he owns and rents out, to tug and steal her underwear.

The tenant, who had lived in the home since April last year, installed a security camera in her living room on April 13 and four days later, while she was on holiday, received a text alert to say someone was in her house.

She immediately reported the incident to cops in Carlisle, Massachusetts, and forwarded them a video clip of a naked man in her house.

Officer Paul Smith studied the footage and recognised Stevenson, who works as a senior fireman in Carlisle.

Out of fear for her safety, the tenant moved out of the home and filed a complaint against Stevenson, seeking damages for negligent infliction of emotional distress, intentional infliction of emotional distress, breach of covenant of quiet enjoyment and violation of privacy.

Stevenson has also been charged with three counts of breaking and entering, accosting and annoying another person, theft, criminal harassment and vandalising property in connection with breaking and entering his tenant's property.

He admitted all the charges when he appeared at Concord District Court.

SURVEY: MEN COME QUICKER THAN WOMEN

AS findings go, it's not that earth-shattering.

Sex toy company We-Vibe has found that men reach orgasm faster than women during sexual intercourse.

According to the survey, 48.6 percent of men "always" reach orgasm, while 20.3% of women are able to climax.

As a result, there's a 28.3% gap between men and women.

The main reason for this contrast is that most women need extra clitoral stimulation in order to orgasm while they have sex.

We-Vibe's Head of Sexual Empowerment, Johanna Rief,

By WENDY THOMAS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

explained: "These results do not suggest that sex should be a race to climax.

"There is no rule in this matter, but it should first and foremost bring pleasure to both partners involved.

"So anybody who would like to orgasm, either before or after their partner, should be able to do so."

But there's a reason that We-Vibe are sharing this not-all-that staggering news.

They want to flog more dildos.

And to help those in need of a little assistance, We-Vibe has launched a new version of its Melt vibrator, called the Midnight Blue.

The ace new clitoral vibrator features patented Pleasure Air technology which stimulates the sensitive nerve endings of the clitoris through pulsating airwaves and gentle suction.

You can also control it via an app for your partner to control the 12 intensity levels.

Vodka-binge dad bared all in street over drive-blocking

A BLIND drunk former drug addict on a vodka binge exposed himself to workmen close to a school in an argument over a blocked drive.

Jason Gregory, 41, was caught on camera as he dropped his trousers and bared his buttocks and genitals to workmen during a row outside a Bargain Booze shop in Malvern, Worcs.

The father-of-five admitted exposure when he appeared at Worcester Magistrates' Court following the incident on June 24.

The court accepted there was no sexual motivation and that the exposure was to express his frustration with the workmen.

Prosecutor Shafquat Reaz said: "He was heavily intoxicated. He was unsteady on his feet at the time. The location was close to The Chase High School."

Rob Macrory, who represented Gregory', said of the offence: "His driveway was blocked and he'd had a lot of vodka to drink. He can't drink now because of the medication he's on."

Magistrates imposed an eight-week community order, put Gregory on an electronic-tagged curfew and ordered him to pay £280 costs.

HOT BABES IN FISHNETS!

By ANNE COATES news@sundaysport.co.uk

MEGAN Thee Stallion drove the crowd wild at the Lollapalooza festival as she wore a thong leotard made from upcycled T-shirts and fishnet stockings.

The 26-year-old rapper lit up Grant Park in Chicago with her performance, and her thong get-up.

The Body singer showed off her frame in a custom embellished leotard made out of band tees including AC/DC, N' Roses, Led Zep and the Ramones.

The bodysuit featured grommets on the straps and was laced together at the front with white string to expose a sparkly black bra underneath.

She layered the barely-there one piece over fishnet stockings and tapped into many men's weakness!

One fan of such stockings said: "First time I got at a lass's fanny was at Castle Private Club in Northwich. She was wearing fishnet tights and no panties. It were like groping a bag of giblets in a string bag. Happy days."

Meg's not the only one to look frisky in fishnets, as the next FIVE pages of amazing snaps show...

Pinochet: The man behind Chile's 'disappeared'

IT often comes as a surprise to foreigners visiting Chile to discover that General Augusto Pinochet still has supporters there.

Outside Chile, he is universally vilified and remembered as a ruthless dictator.

He led the country into an era of robust economic growth but during his rule, more than 3,200 people were executed or "disappeared".

Tens of thousands more were detained and tortured, or exiled.

But in 2013, when the country marked the 40th anniversary of the military coup that brought him to power, attitudes towards Pinochet's 1973-1990 regime and the Socialist Government of Salvador Allende that preceded it remained subject to intense debate.

While most Chileans detest the human rights abuses committed under his rule, Pinochet still has a small but ardent group of right-wing supporters who regard him as a hero.

They say that by ousting Allende on September 11, 1973, the military prevented Chile from sliding into civil war and saved it from becoming "another Cuba", a communist state...

GENERAL Pinochet gave up the presidency in 1990 after he promoted a constitution that empowered a right-wing minority for years.

He held on to his post of commander-in-chief of the army until 1998.

But with that power base, he exerted considerable influence over the democratically-elected governments that replaced his iron-fisted rule.

And he blocked all attempts to prosecute members of his security forces for human rights abuses.

By GILES FLETCHER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

And through intimidation and legal obstacles, Pinochet sought to ensure his own immunity from accountability and was never brought to trial.

When he died in 2006, around 60,000 people turned up to file past his coffin and pay their respects.

Tears

Some were in tears while others clutched bronze busts and photographs of the general.

Even to this day, there is a museum in Santiago honouring his memory.

It contains his military uniforms, his desk, his medals and his extensive collection of toy soldiers from the different regiments of the Chilean army.

Right-wing congressman Ivan Moreira said the Pinochet regime had had "a bad press".

"How long are we going to carry on accepting that the history of Chile is written by the pen of the left?" he asked.

"I'm a child of the dictatorship," said Karen, a Chilean in Santiago.

"I grew up with both sides of the story. My godmother is a communist but my mother is pro-Pinochet. They are best friends but they never talk about politics.

"I don't believe the dictatorship was that bad. It was a safer time on the streets for normal people.

"Now you go to the outskirts of Santiago and there are lots of drugs. There weren't back then.

"Some young people who didn't live through the dictatorship think that everything about it was bad.

"People of my age, who experienced it, can remember the good and the bad."

A survey taken for the 40th anniversary commemorations gave some idea of where Chileans stood on those issues.

While three-quarters of those polled said Gen Pinochet was a dictator, nine percent said he would go down as one of the greatest leaders in Chilean history.

According to the poll, 55% of Chileans regarded the 17 years of the dictatorship as either bad or very bad, while 9% said they were good or very good.

More than a third of those polled either had no opinion or regarded the dictatorship years as a mixture of good and bad.

Another poll, which was published in the country's top newspaper El Mercurio, asked Chileans if the state had done enough to compensate victims of the dictatorship for the atrocities they suffered.

While 30% said yes, 36% said no. The rest were undecided.

Graves

Nearly half of those polled said the state should find new ways of compensating relatives of the disappeared, victims of the dictatorship whose corpses were often dumped at sea or buried in unmarked graves.

But over a quarter disagreed.

Right-wing historians in Chile use two basic arguments to defend the legacy of the Pinochet regime.

They say the coup has to be understood in the context of the time, that by 1973 Chile was a deeply polarised country on the brink of civil war and economic collapse.

And they say that the free market reforms implemented by the military government in the 1970s and 80s laid the foundations for the country's later economic prosperity.

It is true that by 1973 Chile was in a sorry state.

Mr Allende had been in power for three years and the country was increasingly split along ideological lines.

A series of strikes by truck drivers and copper miners had weakened the economy.

Right-wing paramilitary groups were sabotaging power lines and transport routes and basic provisions like bread and flour were scarce.

"As early as December 1971, women took to the streets in what became known as 'the march of the empty saucepans' because of the problems they had getting hold of basic goods," says Adolfo Ibanez, a historian and columnist for El Mercurio.

"And in 1972 and 1973 the situation got worse."

Evelyn Matthei, a right-wing presidential candidate, said that by September 1973 "the immense majority" of Chileans wanted to see the back of the Allende administration.

Turmoil

The reasons for the animosity and for the economic turmoil of the time are still hotly debated.

The right says that Mr Allende's government was incompetent while the left says Chile's powerful and conservative business lobby, backed by covert funding from the US, undermined the government.

It was against this backdrop that the coup took place.

After assuming power, the military government opened up the economy to the free market.

Foreign mining firms, the assets of which had been expropriated under Mr Allende, were invited back into the country.

State-owned companies were sold off while education and pension systems were privatised.

The right says these reforms helped Chile become what it is now, one of the wealthiest countries in Latin America.

Just how much of Chile's prosperity is down to the policies of the Pinochet regime, and how much is to do with the policies of later centre-left governments and the country's vast mineral wealth, is still a matter of debate.

The 40th anniversary rekindled the debate in Chile over the rights and wrongs of the coup, the shortfalls of the Allende government and the legacy of military rule.

Extradition

In October 1998, Pinochet, a friend of former Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, was recuperating in a London clinic from a back operation when he was arrested by British police in response to an application from a Spanish judge seeking his extradition to Madrid to stand trial on charges of genocide, torture and kidnapping.

A 16-month legal battle ensued, ending with a decision to send him back to Chile in March 2000 because his physical and mental ailments made him unfit to stand trial.

And he never did face justice.

Instead, during his last years, General Pinochet lived in near seclusion, mostly at his home in Bucalemu, 80 miles from Santiago.

By then he was scorned even by many of his former military colleagues and conservative civilian ideologues.

Many were disillusioned by revelations that he held at least more than £20 million in secret bank accounts abroad.

Abuses

Ultimately, though, for the outside world, the Pinochet regime is likely to be judged on its human rights record rather than its economic achievements.

According to official figures, 40,018 people were victims of human rights abuses under the dictatorship and 3,065 were killed or simply disappeared.

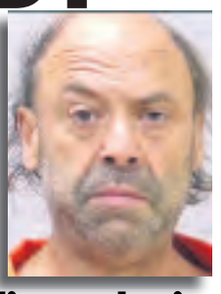

The political debates continue, but those numbers remain by far the biggest stains on the Pinochet legacy.

I'VE NEVER MUTILATED A BODY IN MY LIFE!

DENIAL: Scott Sterffy

Son denies dismembering his retired dentist father

By MILES PLATTING news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MAN who killed and dismembered his own dad was arrested just 15 minutes away from the brutal crime scene after a nationwide manhunt.

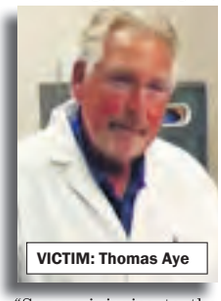

Scott Sterffy, 56, has been charged with murder and mutilation of a dead body after his retired dentist father Thomas Aye, 82, was found dead at his home in Portage, Michigan, on July 25.

He denied the charges at a court hearing and told the judge: "I refuse to answer all questions. These are terrible lies.

"I've never mutilated a body in my entire life.

"I've never killed anybody.'

Mr Aye's daughter told police she'd gone to check on her dad after he'd missed a medical appointment, and found his mutilated body on the floor of his home.

VICTIM: Thomas Aye

Fled

A multi-state manhunt was launched for Scott Sterffy after he fled the state just days after the killing, and was caught on CCTV at airports in Chicago and Seattle.

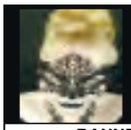

But on July 31, he was found and held in Portage's neighbouring city of Kalamazoo.

Nicholas Armold, the director of Portage Public Safety, said: "Severe injuries to the doctor led us to seek not only murder charges but dismemberment and mutilation charges as well.

"Mr Sterffy was staying at the house during the time we believe the murder took place."

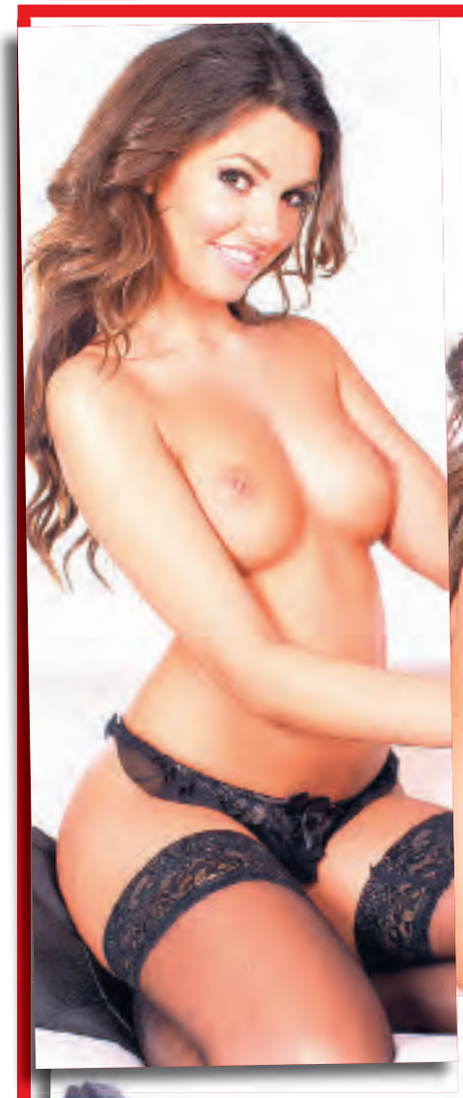

Sterffy's motive for allegedly killing his dad is not yet known.

He was denied bail and is being held.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

DEATH WARNING: Greta Thunberg

Greta's mob are more scary than global warming

HERE we go again with the same old predictions of "climate Armageddon".

All forests will burn to the ground, all seas will rise, all food will be inedible, animals will perish, humanity will be no more.

Well, most of humanity will be no more.

Some of it, remarkably and entirely coincidentally the bit of it that likes to come out with this apocalyptic terror guff every 10 years or so, seems like it will easily survive.

They just need plenty of your hard-earned money to do so.

Which is why Boris, who is clearly c*nt-struck by his tree-hugging wife, reckons we'll have to ditch our gas boilers and replace them with some eco-system that costs a fortune which you can't afford, and he won't help you to afford.

Electric

And it's why all cars are going electric, even though there are hardly any charging ports at service stations, never mind the almost complete lack of them in residential streets.

It won't be hard for you to remember that for the last 18 months we've been in and out of lockdown with ever-changing rules and multiple Government U-turns over COVID.

And if you think we're nearing the end of all that madness, you might want to think again.

Because just look what crap we've been getting fed over climate change for decades.

In 1972, the first "environment programme director" for the United Nations was quite unequivocal about the perils staring us in the face.

The world had just 10 years to avoid catastrophe, he solemnly forewarned.

But nothing happened.

In 1982, his replacement, ignoring the fact that he should have been burned to a crisp by then, judging by his predecessor's predictions, said we had just 18 years left to save the planet.

The impending doom would be worse than and as irreversible as a nuclear holocaust, they said.

In 1989, the same official said we had another 10 years to fix the climate before it "goes beyond human control".

And a year later he was it again, tub-thumping the message that halting global warming before 1995 was absolutely vital to stop the "climate struggle".

But guess what?

Nothing happened.

We then entered the 21st century and something far more dangerous than less-than-intellectual politicians came along.

"Millennials" were now among us, and when not refusing to bathe or eat anything other than non-gender parsley, they were telling us how they knew everything and how awful we were.

Gonks

And the really awful thing was, these gonks in high places, always with a keen eye on grabbing the youth vote, not only listened to them but they actually started agreeing with them, too.

Power was taken away from normal people and handed to the likes of Greta Thunberg.

She's another one who warns that certain death chases us like that big round rock that almost squished Indiana Jones to death in the opening scenes of Raiders of the Lost Ark.

But it's important to remember that Indy dodged that rock and lived to fight another day.

Right now, decades later, Harrison Ford is filming another sequel.

Hiker's shock video of wild moose attack

A HIKER captured a video showing the terrifying moment an enormous bull moose charged at him.

The clip, shared online by the Colorado Parks and Wildlife agency, shows the moose eating from a tree as the hiker films from nearby.

But what looks like a peaceful moment turns into a life-threatening situation when the bull suddenly darts directly towards the man.

"This video is an example of being too close to a bull moose and how quickly they can decide to charge on you," the agency said.

The hiker saw the moose heading towards a lake in Clear Creek County when he stopped to film it.

Luckily, the hiker was uninjured, as he jumped behind a tree for cover, which the moose charged into.

A moose can grow to be six feet high at the shoulder and weigh up to 1,000 pounds.

Colorado has more than 2,500 wild moose roaming the state, which has led to an increase in attacks.

Fact me!

DURING The First World War, a group of Russian and German soldiers agreed to a cease-fire to fend off an attack by wolves.

Drug-smuggle women hid coke in their minges

TWO women were caught smuggling cocaine hidden in their FANNIES after they were seen "walking strangely".

The pair were caught at the Rafael Nunez International Airport in Cartagena, Colombia, trying to board a flight to the Caribbean island of San Andres.

They had 1,000 wraps of cocaine and 60 pills of benzodiazepines wrapped in latex-coated cylinders and inserted in their vaginas, police said.

Cops said the women looked nervous and made "strange movements" which gave them away just minutes before they boarded the flight.

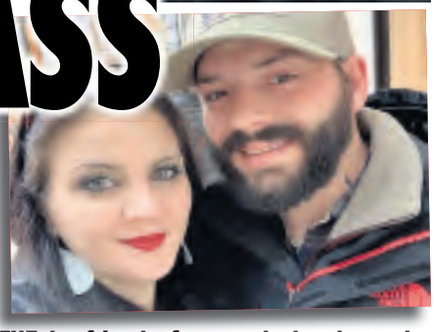

Authorities said the two women were taken to a police station where they both voluntarily removed the packages hidden in their genitals.

Both women now face drug trafficking charges.

BOYFRIEND TOLD ME TO FINGER MYSELF IN CLASS

Teacher's fella charged over perverted vid

HELD: Amelia Ressler (right) and (below) with Brent Vadovsky

THE boyfriend of a supply teacher, who allegedly masturbated as she took a class, persuaded her to perform the sick sex act.

Brent Vadovsky, 32, of Carrollton, Georgia, is facing 19 counts of child molestation in an ongoing probe into his girlfriend, Amelia Ressler, who was charged in February for pleasuring herself at Mt. Zion Elementary School.

Cops learned following the substitute teacher's arrest that Vadovsky was "encouraging her to take explicit videos of her performing sexual acts on herself" while working around pupils, the Carroll County Sheriff's Office said.

By BLAKE LEIGH
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Exposed

Vadovsky also knew the young boys and girls could "possibly be exposed" to his girlfriend's in-class masturbation session that was filmed and sent to him by Ressler, cops said.

Vadovsky fled to Ohio after learning he was being investigated in the case and was taken into custody there on unrelated charges.

He was recently transported back to Georgia to face the same 19 counts as Ressler, or one for every child in the classroom at the time of her alleged sex act, sheriff officials said.

An investigation into Ressler, 30, began after police got a tip about the video circulating within the community.

Both Ressler and Vadovsky, who is also facing a probation violation, are being held at the Carroll County Jail without bail.

Ressler, meanwhile, identifies herself as "beautifully broken, perfectly imperfect, just all together a dazzling disaster" on Facebook.

She said Vadovsky was her "soulmate" in a post in October, that hinted at some discord between the pair.

"No-one else is gonna love him like me, and no one else comforts my soul like he did," Ressler wrote.

"We all deserve true love at least once in a lifetime, even if it's just for a moment in time."

Chloe's got Ferry little on!

REALITY star Chloe Ferry had fans of birds with big rubber faces wanking themselves daft when she posed in her sexy undies.

The Geordie Shore babe, 25, put on a very busty display in a blue sheer suspender set, leaving little to the imagination without quite showing off her tits and mimsy.

Curvy Chloe models for Nikki Intimates Lingerie, who supplied the panties and bra set.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Kelly,

I WENT on the piss last week and pulled a Dutch student who recently came over here for a university course starting next month.

She's blonde with a cracking body – big tits and a lovely arse – and she had a very liberal attitude towards sex!

On the first night I shagged her, we did everything – oral, 69er, doggy-style and even ANAL!

I started off by undressing her and then licking her out. She was loving it as I slurped away at her love-tunnel and it wasn't long before I'd got her juices flowing.

I brought her to orgasm then she made a grab for my cock, pulling it out of my jeans and sucking hard on it.

She was begging me to take her from behind and I eased myself into her gash. But after only a couple of minutes she demanded I stick my dick in her bumhole!

I couldn't believe it! Are all European birds this filthy?

GT, Glasgow

Kelly says...
YES – and the Germans are even kinkier!

Dear Kelly,

MY girlfriend and her filthy mate put on a bit of a lesbo show for me a couple of weeks ago and I ended up boning them BOTH.

Me and the missus got chatting ages ago, after one of our wild sex sessions, about trying a threesome at some point.

Thankfully, she was up for doing it with another bird and quickly arranged for her fit pal to make up the numbers.

When we got down to business, I slipped into her mate from behind while she was licking my bird out.

They then changed over and I did my bird while she was fingering her mate.

The problem is that my girlfriend's mate is so much better in bed than she is. I've shagged her on her own a few times and she was absolute filth.

I'd now like to move in with her, but I don't really want to ruin a relationship which has lasted a long time. What should I do?

FT, Yorkshire

Kelly says...
THE wise thing to do would be to stay with your girlfriend, but I dare say you will do whatever you want.

While the hubby's away the randy wife will play

Dear Kelly,

I OFTEN visit a company run by a husband-and-wife team to help with their computer systems.

When I arrived last week the hubby was out on business and the wife was wearing a skimpy low-cut top.

When she bent over I couldn't fail to notice her round tits and pert nipples.

She smiled and encouraged me to massage her tits while she stroked the bulge in my trousers.

I put my hand up her skirt and inserted two fingers straight up her fanny and worked away until she climaxed.

She then said she wanted to watch me wank. She slid off her knickers and spread her legs while I beat one off.

I have to go back in a couple of weeks and can't afford to lose the contract – which I will if the hubby finds out.

PW, Southampton

Kelly says...
PROGRAMME her to be careful.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week KELLY M cGREGOR has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Park nookie spy was our son's girlfriend!

Dear Kelly,

I WAS inspired to try a sex session with the missus in our local park after reading about the fun and games that other people get up to.

They seem to get off on having sex in public places and I thought my wife might enjoy it.

We're both in our 40s and our children have grown up and moved out, which means we can experiment with nookie again.

When I mentioned doing it in the park, she really got into the idea.

She settled on a pair of long black boots with a loose knee-length skirt and overcoat – and no underwear at all!

It was just going dark and on the walk to the park I managed to get my hand up my wife's skirt.

Judging by her soaking fanny, she was as turned on as I was.

In the park I sat on one of the swings and my wife got down on her knees and gave me a slow and sensuous blowjob.

Then she lowered her skirt and straddled me on the swing. We managed to get quite a rhythm going as we swung back and forth.

Slippery

At this point I caught sight of a young woman over my wife's shoulder, standing under a tree watching us.

So I pulled my wife's arse cheeks as wide apart as I could to give her a better view of my big, fat cock thrusting in and out of her.

The woman hitched up her own skirt and got her hand in her knickers.

I was so turned on by this, I quickly sent my load deep into my wife's dripping pussy.

That's when my wife also spotted the young woman and decided to give her a real show by bending over the slide and slowly fingering her slippery fanny.

I thought she'd stop when the woman came over, but instead my wife ordered her to get her tongue in.

It was a fantastic sight as I sat there and watched. But when I took a closer look at the young woman's face, I got a shock as I realised it was our son's latest girlfriend.

Now I'm worried that she'll tell our lad what we were up to.

CB, Nottingham

Kelly says...

WHY worry? He might be proud of you for having a shag in the park at your age.

Gutbucket swinger rode me like a hippo

Dear Kelly,

MY wife and I were looking to join a swingers' club and I made contact with one in our area – where the pictures of the women looked great.

We went to a party at the home of the club's chairman, but I quickly noticed the women there were all pretty ugly or really fat.

I asked the chairman about the women I had seen on the website and he said they were former members.

My wife, however, seemed to be enjoying herself and she soon went upstairs with the chairman, who was grinning like a Cheshire fking cat!

Then a fat bird waddled into the kitchen and eyed me up. To be honest, I don't normally go for women who are larger than a size 10, I simply can't stand the sight of all that flabby flesh when I'm banging a bird.

Pounded

Anyway, this gutbucket turned out to be the chairman's wife, so I thought "fk it" when she got hold of me and led me upstairs.

When she stripped off her kit to reveal her five bellies I felt a bit sick, but stuck with it.

Then she took out her false teeth, sucked me until I was semi-hard and hopped on my poor old man and rode me like a hippo.

Afterwards I escaped to find my wife and watched as the chairman gleefully pounded her.

I never want to go again, but my wife loved it and wants us to go every bloody week!

What should I do?

RF, Devon

Kelly says...

TRY a different swingers' club.

Dear Kelly,

I'M a 24-year-old builder who has been working on some new flats in a posh part of town.

A woman next to the site seemed to be regularly at her window and it was clear she was ogling me.

We got chatting and she invited me in for a sandwich. But it was clear that more was on offer.

She said she was divorced and hadn't had sex for ages. And she said it was her fantasy to shag a hairy-arsed builder.

She's 40 and a curvy 36D with long black hair.

Normally, I think of myself as a sensitive lover who always puts the woman first.

But this time, I grabbed her roughly and stuck my tongue down her throat.

Then I unzipped and coaxed her head down and she took my bulging cock in her mouth.

Then she hitched up her skirt to reveal no knickers and a neatly-trimmed bush.

I talked dirty to her as I pushed her over the sofa and then plunged deep into her fanny.

Since then I've been for a shag at hers most days. But when I offered to take her out for a meal, she said she wouldn't be seen dead with a builder!

DD, Manchester

Kelly says...

SO she wants a physical relationship with you and nothing else. Enjoy!

#MY SEX FANTASY

‘Bum fun is the cherry on top of a sexual sundae’

...WITH EVE ANGEL 34C-24-34, FROM KENSINGTON, WEST LONDON

MY naughtiest sexual turn-on right now has to be ANAL SEX .

I had always thought it would be too painful and only tried it recently, but now I can’t get enough!

Proper foreplay is mega important, as is lots and lots of lube.

I actually really enjoy the build-up, with fingers and toys such as butt plugs and beads penetrating me.

And a tongue down there, too. Bliss!

Anal sex is better once you’re already feeling very turned on.

Then when he enters you, you’re gagging for it.

The first time I tried it, it was like nothing I’d ever felt before.

It was a fullness that made me feel like I’d never had proper sex before.

I discovered it gives me the most intense orgasms ever, when I get the right build-up.

Bum fun is the cherry on top of a sexual sundae!

NAUGHTY babe Nicole Smith fancies herself as a bit of an exhibitionist and says summer is ideal for outdoor bonking.

The stunna, from Kent, loves sex alfresco and the thought of filthy fresh air frolics always makes her panties moist.

Nicole said: "I love the thrill of outdoor romps, knowing someone could catch us in the act really turns me on.

Cock

"I once shagged a fella in a hot tub while it was snowing, we stripped naked and took a dip and things escalated pretty fast.

"I was soon bouncing up and down on his hard cock and the jets on my clit had me gushing in no time at all.

"We more than made waves in there. I'll have to revisit him!"

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

hannah HILTON

HEAVENLY Hannah Hilton says she has a thing for younger men.

And the 34DD babe admitted she doesn't mind if that means folk call her a COUGAR!

The Oxford stunna, said: "I have got no desire to date guys my own age.

"Most of them are married and living a miserable life with hen-pecking wives.

"I take care of myself and look much younger than I am, so I find I'm usually chatted up by younger men.

"At first I would resist, as I thought they would be immature, but I have found they are much more attentive than arrogant, older guys.

"They are thrilled to be with a sexy woman with confidence and they will do anything to please you in bed.

"It's great. Plus, they can drink and party all night as well, which I love doing, too!"

ON THE MOVE: Joe Willock

Will and a way for £25m Toon target Joe

JOE Willock is on the verge of swapping Arsenal for Newcastle United.

The goalscoring midfielder created a big impact while on loan at the Toon last season.

And Magpies boss Steve Bruce wants to make him the first signing of the summer transfer window.

Both clubs are close to agreeing a fee in the region of £25m and Willock could have a medical at St James's Park by the weekend.

Newcastle have been playing well in pre-season but haven't managed to get any signings over the line so far.

They open their Premier League campaign with a tricky test against West Ham.

Willock is not likely to face the Hammers.

But Bruce is happy with the way preparations are going.

He said: "I'd like one or two to be match fit of course, but going into the season we only have Paul Dummett out.

"All our focus is now on the preparation for West Ham.

"But in terms of getting through pre-season and having people on the pitch, we're looking OK."

Jack's tears over move

JACK Grealish says he cried like Messi over leaving Villa.

He'll probably cheer up when he gets his first wage packet from the champions.

But the 25-year-old insists his £100m move made him turn on the waterworks.

Grealish said: "It was so tough. I think everyone knows that.

"I reported back for the pre-season as I was meant to. That's when the manager wanted me back. It was difficult because in the back of my head, I knew I might be going.

"Everyone's seen the way Messi was at his final press conference and that is the exact way I felt myself.

"Before I left, at the hotel, I spoke to the team, the staff and the players and I teared up a little bit myself."

SOLSKJAER HOPES TO GET FRENCH ACE

BARCA IN FIGHT FOR GRIEZMANN

United looking to poach top striker from skint Barcelona

BARCELONA manager Ronald Koeman is battling to stop Manchester United signing Antoine Griezmann.

By PAUL THOMAS

The Catalan giants are in chaos after they were forced to let legend Lionel Messi leave thanks to new financial rules in Spanish football.

The six-times Ballon D'Or winner is having to leave the Nou Camp because Barcelona can't afford to give him a new contract.

And that has alerted other teams who are trying to pick off some of their biggest names.

Already there is talk of Sergio Aguero leaving before he's kicked a ball in anger due to the financial woes hanging over the club.

And Koeman could have more trouble on the horizon with Ole Gunnar Solskjaer looking at a swoop for Griezmann.

The Dutchman says he's looking to the French hitman to fill Messi's boots this season.

And he has gone public to tell Griezmann that he's the main man at the Nou Camp now.

Koeman is clearly hoping that will convince him not to cast glances at the riches on offer in the Premier League.

The Barca boss said: "Despite the farewell to Leo Messi, we are very excited about this new season.

"With the squad we have, the signings we have made and also young people have come up, which is always the future of this great club. We are convinced that we will give you many joys this season. With a lot of help, a lot of sacrifice and a very good job we will achieve the maximum.

"We know what it is to be from Barca and what this club represents.

"It is important to have the best, but we don't change our ideas or the way we play either. Griezmann has played in his position and he has done well."

Scored

United hope the cracks appearing at Barca will help them sign a forward who cost £107m just two years ago.

It hasn't been plain sailing since Griezmann arrived from Atletico Madrid but he scored 20 times last season.

But he is also one of the biggest earners at the club and it's the wage bill that means Messi can't stay.

Because his contract ran down he would have to be registered as a new signing and that's not allowed while the club's wage bill is so high under rules of the Spanish league.

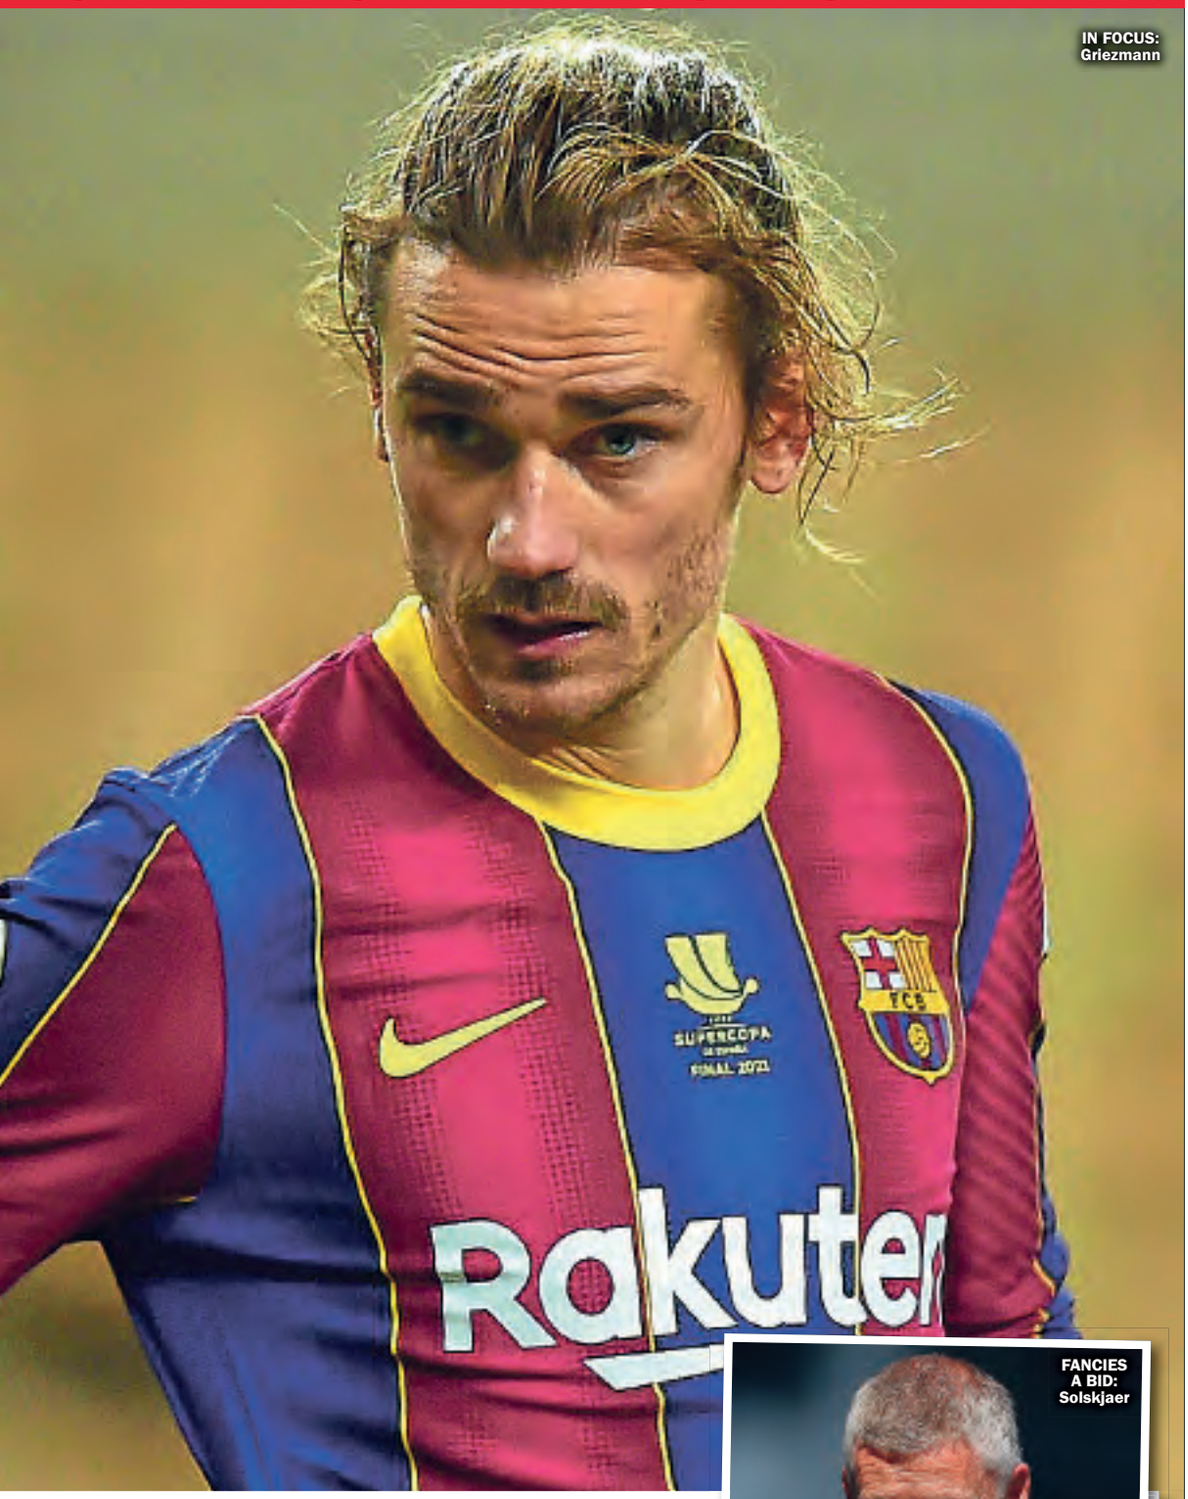

It's a rule a lot of fans would like to see introduced into this country — especially when you read that Jack Wilshere is picking £350,000 a week at Manchester City.

Griezmann copped abuse from angry Barcelona fans ahead of pre-season training with them blaming him for not being able to keep Messi.

Now United are reported to have enquired about the availability of the 30-year-old.

He would certainly be a big signing for the Reds who will be leaning on veteran Edinson Cavani this season.

ON THE CHEAP FROM CATALANS

IN FOCUS: Griezmann

FANCIES A BID: Solskjaer

They have brought in Jadon Sancho but Solskjaer would love another top-class option to take the pressure off what are still relatively young players in Marcus Rashford and Mason Greenwood.

Chelsea were thought to be in the hunt too but have cooled their interest now they are on the verge of bringing back Romelu Lukaku.

Move

The sticking point could be the transfer fee for Griezmann. He has two years left on his deal so would cost around £80m which seems a big number for a 30-year-old.

United could fund the move by offloading Anthony Martial.

He seems very much the odd man out now that Sancho has arrived at Old Trafford. If the Reds could get around £50m for him, they would be able to go for Griezmann.

There aren't that many takers for the Frenchman but Tottenham could be interested if and when Harry Kane goes. Inter Milan may see him as a replacement for Lukaku.

Martial has four years left on his Old Trafford deal and is thought to be happy to stay and fight for his place.

But United would be willing to consider an initial 12-month loan with a permanent deal for 2022 attached.

The Reds have other fringe players they would be willing to offload with the likes of Andreas Pereira, Diogo Dalot and Alex Telles all available.

Axel Tuanzebe has already left the club for another loan spell at Aston Villa.

MESSI THE £80M MAN

LIONEL Messi will pocket £80m for his two-year stint at Paris St Germain.

The Argie legend will be unveiled today after he was forced to leave skint Barcelona.

The 34-year-old will get £20m as a signing-on fee and also trouser a whopping £30m each season until 2023.

That's still less than the fee alone Man City paid for Jack Grealish and boss Pep Guardiola will be kicking himself that he didn't wait to get the world's best player.

Messi spoke with fellow Argie and PSG boss Mauricio Pochettino after leaving the Catalans.

That will give the French giants a formidable forward line of Neymar, Kylian Mbappe and Messi for the new season.

KANE ABLE TO PLAY

Spurs want him to face City on Sunday

But Tottenham will only let him go if Man City put £150m on the table — and that's £50m less than they have offered so far.

It's typical that the first weekend of the season has thrown up Spurs v Man City as a fixture.

Kane only returns to full training tomorrow so he's not likely to be starting.

But it would be a shock if new Tottenham boss Nuno Espirito Santo didn't have his best player on the bench and ready to come on.

Then we will really see how committed Kane is.

If he refuses to be on the bench it will be a strong pointer to his mindset.

Reports suggest City will come back with a £150m bid for Kane in the next couple of days — maybe even in time to stop him figuring for Spurs on Sunday.

Tottenham are already looking to the future are thought to have opened talks with Inter Milan over £60m-rated Lautaro Martinez.

But that deal may be harder to strike now the Italians are on the verge of selling Romelu Lukaku back to Chelsea.
